

The Daily Universe

374-1211 Ext. 2957

Provo, Utah

Vol. 30 No. 85

Tuesday, January 18, 1977

seeks sport tobe

GIBSON
Staff Writer

opponent of the development is in investigation of handling of the a BYU botany
the investigation an appeal filed with see a review and a of the whole
ing to end." Liechty

recently quoted ary Williamson, less Associates, the posed resort, were and his company had t price Liechty owns within the ment boundaries.
ility, no price was nd," he never been set," he

for the grand jury out a "call" for light.

erson feels as I do,
her wants known to the attorney

4-acre piece of land and boundaries which he
to the developers.

is year, he had a but the cabin was

the Utah County has not yet been

Liechty filed an allow the multi-million dollar deal, he stated the properly handled investigation and was according to Uinta creetion Officer
I soon go to the Ogden for a ruling.

OK's often law

Y (AP) — The Utah
sent to the House
urning most of the le helmet law eorge, debated and a bill to extend it health, and wage are now granted

ills which would meetings, establish commission and order to certify under scrutiny.

holder from last passed after the n, would require by minors who ride dults would be would be exempt that all couples or gear be worn which caused the day deal with sex in, regardless of sex the bill would make the women and also in overtime times also would allow been filed in the require open public

Oaks selected by private colleges

Pres. Dallin H. Oaks has been elected to the board of directors of the new National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities.

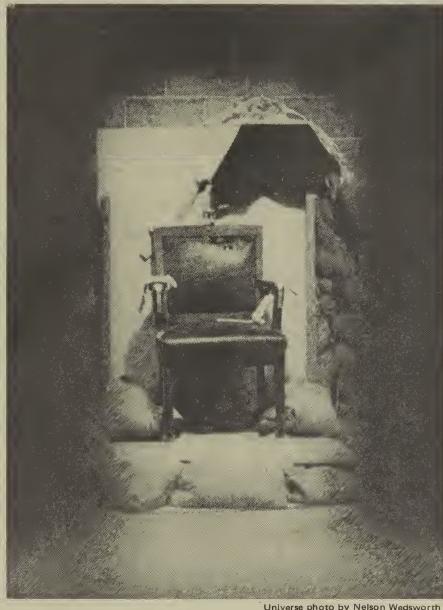

Formation of the group was begun last February at a meeting of independent college and university presidents in Philadelphia, attended by Pres. Oaks.

He is currently president of the American Association of Presidents of Independent Colleges and Universities, and has represented this group in hearings before Congress on Title IX, which concerns equal opportunities for women in education.

RGINIA A. WOODS
Staff Writer

roposed $40.1 million in federal Utah Project and $208,000 for Monument as part of the l budget submitted to Congress

the Central Utah Project - a
to bring water to Utah's dry areas use units have been targeted for most complex of the six-unit CUP
ile unit construction, is designed the Uinta Basin to counties in the a series of tunnels, conduits and

Universe photo by Nelson Wedsworth

Firing squad saw Gilmore from behind protective screen.

Universe photo by Tom Boyce

Gary Gilmore's body is taken to University Medical Center in Salt Lake City for autopsy.

Firing squad ends killer's story

By TONY WOLLER
Universe Staff Writer

As he sat in a black, foam-padded chair awaiting his execution by firing squad, condemned killer Gary Mark Gilmore look directly at Utah State Prison Warden Samuel Smith without quivering and made his simple, last request:

"Let's do it," said the murderer of two BYU students. Then, despite his desire to die without a hood, a priest, a doctor and several prison employees placed a black corduroy cloth over his head. "I'm ready," he said.

"He did not move when the hood was placed over him," said Lawrence Schiller, Los Angeles media entrepreneur who has purchased the rights to Gilmore's story. Schiller, one of the witnesses chosen by Gilmore, described the execution to newsmen later.

"A circular target was placed on Gilmore's black T-shirt," Schiller said. "I think I saw the warden give a signal out of the corner of my eye. I heard three noises in rapid succession — bang, bang, bang."

The time was 8:07 a.m. MST. Just moments later, an off-white phone rang in the prison's training room, which was used for training newsmen from around the world.

Ken Shulsen, administrative assistant to the Utah Director of Corrections, answered the phone after two rings, listened to the short message, hung the phone up and then announced: "Samuel Smith, chief justice of the Fourth Judicial Court of Utah has been carried out. Gary Mark Gilmore is dead."

The execution occurred eighteen minutes later than originally scheduled but was carried out only minutes after the last legal battle between the state and opponents of capital punishment cleared the way for the execution in the United States since 1967.

The last legal hassle was precipitated late Sunday night when U.S. District Judge Willis Ritter in Salt Lake City decided to hear arguments of a last-minute suit by lawyers of the American Civil Liberties Union trying to stop the execution.

Shortly after 1 a.m. Monday, Ritter declined to grant a 10-day restraining order on grounds there were "obvious serious doubts" about the constitutionality of the death penalty law. The 76-year-old judge was in the car that carried U.S. Marshal Royal Buttars to deliver the execution stay to the prison at 2:45 a.m.

However, Utah's new attorney general, Robert B. Hansen, was prepared to handle the case and applied for a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

The U.S. Supreme Court, approached in Washington immediately after the federal panel lifted the stay, declined to grant a stay and at 2:20 a.m. the warden told newsmen that he had been asked to continue with the execution countdown as if there were no delay.

At 4:30 a.m., Hansen, ALCU lawyers and David Lewis, chief judge of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, who lives in Salt Lake City, left the Salt Lake airport aboard Gov. Scott Matheson's airplane for Denver to meet with the other two judges of the Circuit Court to consider an appeal of Ritter's order.

The court overturned Ritter's order at 7:37 a.m. and word of this action reached the prison by telephone at 7:45 a.m.

Elder Marion D. Hanks
... to speak today

Assembly to hear Elder Hanks' talk

Elder Marion D. Hanks will be today's devotional speaker at Marriott Center at 10 a.m.

A former Assistant to the Council of the Twelve, Elder Hanks was sustained as a member of the First Quorum of Seventy in October 1976.

President David O. McKay ordained Elder Hanks a High Priest on July 27, 1961; he had been set apart to the First Presidency of the Seventy on April 4, 1953. He was then sustained as an Assistant to the Council of the Twelve on April 6, 1968 and set apart April 8 by Elder Alvin R. Dyer.

Elder Hanks was born Oct. 13, 1921 in Salt Lake City. He served a mission in the Northern United States and during World War II served aboard a submarine chaser in the Pacific.

After the war, he visited servicemen in many parts of the world, including Vietnam, Thailand, Hong Kong, Europe and the United States.

Elder Hanks was a recipient of a Juris Doctor degree from the University of Utah.

A strong advocate for Boy Scouting, Elder Hanks has been a member of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America and the National Explorer Committee.

In July of 1975, Elder Hanks was on the BYU campus speaking to those attending the Utah Valley Special Interest Conference. In his message as part of the conference, he said, "Trouble is the heart of life, and we must learn to meet it as a friend, not as an enemy."

Elder Hanks was born Oct. 13, 1921 in Salt Lake City. He served a mission

Exec mulls resignation, cites health

By DEBBIE BOOTHE
and MARK JOHNSON
Universe Staff Writers

Dave Kelley, ASBYU organizations vice president, said Monday evening he is seriously considering resigning from office.

He said if he does resign it would be because of "poor health and a heavy class load." Kelley said he has "not officially resigned at this point."

Last Friday, Kelley submitted a letter of resignation effective at noon today, to Randy Sloat, ASBYU President, according to Curtis Wynder, assistant director of the Wilkinson Center. Wynder said Kelley intended to resign but he had not signed the letter, but is now reconsidering.

Monday, at press time, J. Elliott Cameron, dean of Student Life, said he had not heard "anything" concerning Kelley's resignation.

According to Wynder, usual procedure is for Sloat and Cameron to review Kelley's letter of resignation.

Kelley said he received some incomplete last semester because he was hindered by poor health, but he was making up all incomplete work and would be finished after "very soon."

Cameron said "I check all the grades. I am not going to be graded for the first semester."

Kelley said he received some incomplete last semester because he was hindered by poor health, but he was making up all incomplete work and would be finished after "very soon."

Cameron said "I check all the grades. I am not going to be graded for the first semester."

Inside today

CARTER'S NOMINEE ... for the new director of the CIA withdraws his name from consideration. See page 2.

A MINI COURSE ... to instruct students in filing out income tax forms will be offered on campus. See page 3.

TWO CALIFORNIA MEN ... have been charged with selling U.S. rocket parts to the Soviet Union. See page 7.

SPORTS

ENTERTAINMENT

RGINIA A. WOODS
Staff Writer

roposed $40.1 million in federal Utah Project and $208,000 for Monument as part of the
l budget submitted to Congress

the Central Utah Project - a
to bring water to Utah's dry areas
use units have been targeted for
most complex of the six-unit CUP
ile unit construction, is designed the Bureau of Reclamation, which manages the funds for CUP said. "The budget includes the projects we've identified as priority in the overall construction project."

According to James Jenogle, assistant regional director for the National Park Service, Timpanogos Cave National Monument would get $103,000 for hydroelectric powerplants and valves in a new water system and $105,000 to replace the cave lighting system.

"The lighting system stimulates the growth of algae," he said, adding "some switches don't work, and we've had our guides getting shocked."

Jenogle said that Ford budgeted everything for the park.

In the Jensen Unit, construction on the Tyack Dam is due to begin in 1978. The dam will be built at $8.2 million proposed in the budget. The dam will provide municipal and irrigation water.

Elwood G. Bywater, assistant regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation, which manages the funds for CUP said. "The budget includes the projects we've indicate "all within readiness." He would not give specifics on how he communicated to the squad.

● Firing squad kills Gilmore

(Cont. from page 1)

The warden also refused to give details on the six-man squad other than that they had a squad leader. Newsman surmised from the five large slits and one small slit in the black divider 30 feet from the death chair that the sixth man was the squad leader and did not fire any shots.

One of the five marksmen fired a blank so none would be sure if he fired a fatal shot. The bullet holes were within a three-inch area, and the bullets appeared to have entered Gilmore's body at the heart.

The marksmen, whose identities prison officials have said will never be disclosed, had entered and left through a separate door on the side of the cannery. Some 25 to 35 persons were present during the execution.

Gilmore's body was taken to the University of Utah Medical Center, where it was examined by Dr. Serge Moore, the Utah state medical examiner. He said the executed murderer was alive for two minutes after the bullets pierced his heart. "He was conscious and in extreme pain," Moore said, in response to a question. "All I can tell you is that he was breathing and there were the automatic functions of the body going for two minutes."

Moore performed a three-hour autopsy on the body. The body was turned over to the Walker Mortuary of Provo. Gilmore had requested cremation.

Hospital officials disclosed that Gilmore had specified in a document signed Jan. 12 that only his eyes, kidneys, liver and pituitary gland could be removed and used for medical purposes.

Outside the prison fence, the death announcement was met with silence by about 60 demonstrators. They had been jubilant at the stay, but became morose when they were told of the Court's decision.

Bishop C. Armstrong of the United Methodist Church in North and South Dakota, said, "The soul fades with each act like this. It's the cork out of the bottle."

All eyes turned to the prison as network television crews scurried about to record the news.

Approximately 15 minutes later, the announcement was made: "Garn Mark Gilmore has been shot. Shall we bow our heads in silence?"

"God have mercy on the killers," one man said, followed by several Amens from the crowd.

"It's a gross and barbaric justice," said a tearful Shirley Pender, state American Civil Liberties Union director whose organization sought the last-minute delays.

"We did everything possible. No failure can be attributed to the ACP," she said.

Gilmore's execution was the final act in a series of tragic and bizarre events that began in July in Utah Valley when he murdered two BYU students, Bennie Bushnell and Max Jensen, on consecutive nights.

Gilmore, 36, was convicted of first-degree murder and sentenced to death on Oct. 7. On Nov. 1, he told Judge Roger Bullock that he wanted the death sentence carried out and would not appeal it.

Universe photo by Scott Harms

Attorney Ron Stanger, left, Gilmore's uncle Vern Damico, center, and Lawrence Schiller confer at news conference shortly after witnessing execution.

Public land discussed

(AP) — Idaho Gov. promised Monday to let his party in making to manage the nation's d before the Senate at the start of two nation hearings. The been picked as Interior secretary six years ago at a miners Conference. Like governor, Andrus state, government departments into 19

Andrus as a "through," and said the Interior the only Cabinet post consider anybody else. I wanted from the w selection as I as governor to be a type," said Andrus. It as an obligation to assist Congress and the tough decisions facing this nation," the prepared remarks.

Interior Department, other governmental

orno trade

I for woes

— A multimillion dollar child pornography is driving thousands of children, alcoholism, drug addiction, and premature parenting," says a former Gerber made the charges we conference called to deal with the problem.

conference held in the heart of San Poro district, were two films ex acts involving children between 3 as well as magazines and even a card with youngsters in lewd merical child pornography clearly minority's indifference for the well men," declared the former Utah society's sickest members the 3-year-old." Her mother of four, called the things I've ever seen" and angrily marketers of "destroying our she said were made in this purchased across the street from Building where the conference

000 children in the metropolitan some type of sex for money, said Dr. Denssen-Gerber, 42, Hessey House Institute, a nonprofit abled youths.

agency, "can best be called the steward of our resource heritage. It is a heritage given us to use and enjoy wisely, and yet to protect and pass on to future generations."

As governor of Idaho, Andrus said he consistently urged protection for quality of life. "If I am confirmed, my goal as secretary of the Interior will be to protect and enhance the quality of life for all in the United States," he said.

Idaho has found ways to protect the environment while selectively developing mineral resources to avoid wilderness areas while allowing limited harvests. "We manage our rangeland not only for livestock but for wildlife and other resources values as well," he said.

Only recently have people begun to realize that they have been foreclosing options that should have been saved for the future, he said. In addition, he said, are to place high values on clear air, pure water and outdoor recreation.

"I am hopeful that we now are entering an era when the concept of multiple use will be better understood," he said.

Andrus said he's pleased that President-elect Carter "is a man who personally has been involved in the protection of the heritage of America."

"We can all look forward to his personal involvement in decisions we make to protect clean air, clean water and unscattered landscapes, yet at the same time providing a progressive society."

Special courses enrollment opens

Registration for courses offered by the BYU Department of Special Courses and Conferences is now open to students.

According to Glen McClure, program administrator for Special Courses and Conferences, four, eight week courses are offered to students, three of which are now open.

Psychology 459R, a one credit class entitled "Understanding and Improving Your Memory," is the only course offered for credit.

The non-credit classes offered are cake decorating, home storage and preparation and speed reading.

Students can register for the classes in 242 HRCC or by mail. The classes will begin the first week of February.

Tax information offered in course

A course to help students file income tax forms will begin Jan. 26, according to the instructor, Frank A. Webb.

The class will teach students about deductible items and other tax overpayments that may be available him money. The class will also be helpful to people filing the 1040A short-form, since the short-form has been changed, Webb said.

The course will run for three Wednesday nights from 7-9 p.m. in 80 JKB. Cost of the course is $20, including the text, "Your Federal Income Tax Guide," and a tax return.

Webb is a supervisor for the Tax Corporation of America and the financial officer of the BYU Department of Evening Classes. He has been a tax consultant for 23 years and was with the Bank of America's Los Angeles headquarters for 14 years.

The Department of Business Programs said Webb will answer many frequently asked questions and be available to answer any other questions as available.

Special Jan. 17 to 31 1977

A PENNY A GALLON

Save this coupon and get a discount of 1 cent off of each gallon purchased at

SUPER SAVERS

1429 NORTH 150 EAST PROVO, UTAH,

(across from Helaman Hall)

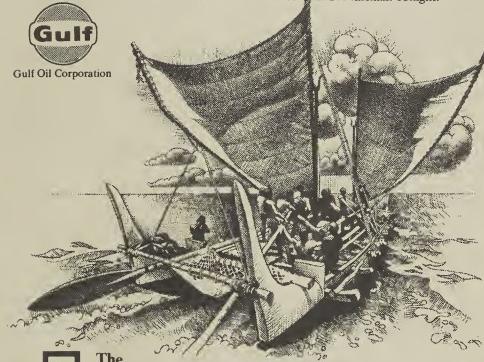

HUSKY

Come aboard a legend. Tonight.

Watch Voyage of the Hokule'a on Public Television. Take a daring 3,000-mile ocean trek from Hawaii to Tahiti on a replica of an ancient Polynesian voyaging canoe. Join series host E. G. Marshall. Tonight.

Gulf Oil Corporation

The excitement of discovery
The National Geographic Specials

TUESDAY 8:00
SUNDAY 6:00

11 KBYU
TV PROVO

Produced by the National Geographic Society and WQED/Pittsburgh. Made possible by a grant from Gulf Oil Corporation.

ACADEMICS OFFICE PRESENTS

VICE-PRESIDENT DEL MONTE CORP.

RICHARD SONNE

REGIONAL REPRESENTATIVE

TOPIC: 'Make The Minutes Count'

TODAY
7:30 p.m.
JSB

Seek learning ever more fully and also by fun
DEC 28 1976

Netters sneak past Utah

By RON KNOWLTON
University Sports Writer

Tied 12-12 after singles competition, BYU's tennis team pulled out a narrow victory over Utah in Ogden Saturday after doubles play.

Both teams finished so close that, had the Cougars lost one match, the contest could easily have gone the other way.

The meet matched Utah State, Weber State, Utah and BYU. The Cougars now hold the state supremacy award as a result of their win.

"I feel really good," tennis coach Wayne Pearce said about the meet. "We won in places where we hadn't been winning before."

Y records shutout in wrestling opener

By GIFFORD NIELSEN
University Sports Writer

The BYU wrestling team won its first WAC wrestling match last Friday afternoon, defeating New Mexico 40-0. This was the first time ever recorded by a BYU team in the last 10 years.

The match, which took place in Albuquerque, was dominated by the Cougars as they won one match by forfeit, one match by a pin and eight matches by decision.

Sam Hartley, wrestling in the 118-pound class, won by forfeit. In the 126-pound class, Same Omri of BYU topped Sanchez of UNM by a large margin of 5-2. Lamar Boyer then beat McClelland 7-4 to give BYU a comfortable lead. In the 142-pound class, John Mecham of BYU won a 10-7 decision over Hines of UNM. Layne Deal beat Putz in the 150-pound class, while Jim McElroy and Dennis David Hansen then beat B. O'Connor 9-6 to keep the string of victories going. In the 167-pound class, Gene Patch had little trouble downing Peterson 9-2.

In the final three matches, Brad Hansen overcame J. O'Connor 12-7, Rory Needs overwhelmed Martinez 16-3, and Scott Jeppesen beat R. R. 3-5 1 into the finish.

The Cougar team went home this week, taking on Cal-State Fullerton Wednesday night in the Smith Fieldhouse beginning at 7:30 p.m. The following night they will tangle with the Arizona State Sun Devils at 8:30 p.m. in the fieldhouse. ASU

Pearce was especially pleased with the performance of All-American Bruce Kleuge, who defeated Kent Crawford, an All-American and quarter-finalist in the NCAA last year, 6-4, 6-4.

Both BYU and Utah played nose-to-nose and finished in 12-12 deadlock after singles play.

Both teams advanced their entire singles entries into the finals. But Kleuge and John Bennett quickly beat Utah's Jim Greenberg and Kent Crawford 7-6, 6-3. Denney Bond and Chris Smith beat Save Sherbeck and Dick Wharton 6-3, 3-6 and 7-5 and it was all over for the ailing Utes.

Bennett beat Ute Jim Greenburg for the first time in three tries 7-6, 4-6, and 7-6, including two tiebreakers in singles play.

Bond lost his match to Sherbeck, 6-2, 6-4.

The Utes' Tom Pullin poured on the steam, beating BYU's Eric Peterson, 6-3, 4-6, and 6-2.

In the No. 5 match, Chris Smith topped Dick Wharton 2-6, 6-4, 6-3.

In the No. 6 match, Chris Andes beat Richard Williams 6-4, 6-6 and 6-4. Williams subbed for Joel Miller, who is out with pulled ligaments in his ankle.

BYU played without two starters, All-American Mike Nissley and Miller. Nissley is out with a shoulder injury and may be lost for the season. Miller should be back in competition in two weeks.

Saturday the Cougars face their next big challenge, with a mixed doubles match against Utah at the Marriott Center. Pearce expects another hard-fought battle, and fans may see a repeat performance between Kleuge and Crawford.

Icecats win in 9-1 rout of Bountiful

The BYU ice hockey team continued its winning ways this weekend, dumping Bountiful 9-1.

The Icecats got off to a slow start as they found the Bountiful goalie almost unbeatable. The Cougars fired shot after shot, but it was to no avail as the Bountiful goalie made many spectacular saves in the first period.

The Icecats finally got some player movement in front of the Bountiful goal, and their shots started hitting the mark. Inspired by the sudden influx of goals, the Icecats started skating right past a tired Bountiful defense and bombarded a weary-looking opposing goalie.

With the pick-up of the offense, the Icecat defense began to tighten up too. Bountiful found it harder and harder to find the BYU end of the ice. When Bountiful did manage to get down to the other end of the ice, the Bountiful players found it difficult to beat the Icecat goalies. Carl Robertson, the Cougars' leading goal-scorer, had a hat-trick in the third period of the game. Robertson, a Canadian newcomer to the team, rejected a shot after shot. It wasn't until late in the third period that Robertson's shutout was broken.

Sports

The Daily Universe

Bowlers eye meet

Shawn Brady put together 10 strikes in a row for a 276 high game, with an overall average of 20.5 for five games. Steve Ohrenfeld had a 221 high game for a 195 average, followed by Jim Blade with a 187 average. Leo O'Ryan of Ricks averaged 198 with a 215 high game.

High for the BYU women were Jeannie Busby with a 191 average, including a 253 high game, and Nancy Sutelle with a 180 average.

LOVE TH NEIGHB PAINT T HOUSE.

FULLER
OBRIEN
PAINTS

Special Student, Faculty and Staff Discount w/Activity Card

JONES PAINT & GLASS
170 North 100 West
373-3131

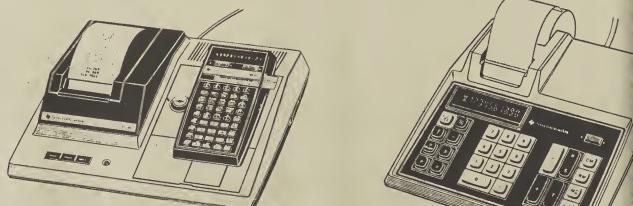

A HAL WALLIS PRODUCTION
ROOSTER COGBURN
(...and the Lady)
JOHN WAYNE
KATHERINE HEPBURN
VARSITY THEATER
FOR SHOWTIMES CALL 373-3211

Texas Instruments electronic calculators

We are now carrying Texas Instruments electronic calculators at the BYU Bookstore. Compare our new low prices. Current models in stock are the TI-Business Analyst, SR-52, and SR-56, fully portable lightweight, dependable professional calculators providing direct application to business management, insurance, investment, sales/distribution, real estate, banking, accounting, and a number of diversified personal uses.

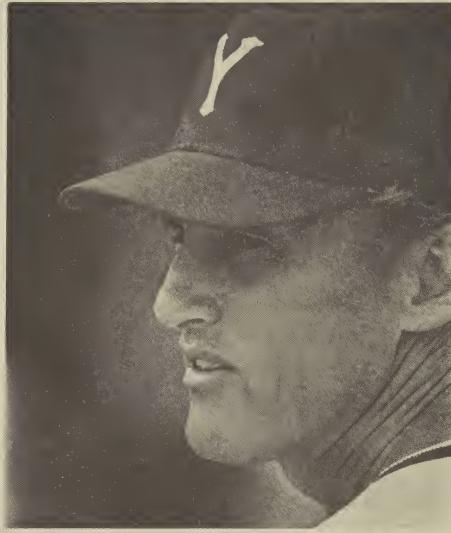

Meet Goil Kasper,
your Texas Instruments Representative.
She will be in the store
Tuesday, Jan. 18th for a demonstration and to answer any questions you might have.

The versatile P-C 100 gives you a printer, program memory and security control all in one unit. TI's new SR-52 card programmable calculator plugs directly into the PC-100. Connect the PC-100 directly or from the SR-52 keyboard. The TI Electronic Calculator has an easy-to-read display with a print tape, four-function fully addressable memory for a number of purposes such as simplified invoicing, auditing problems, common business problems.

All of these instruments are quiet, efficient, and capable of meeting your business needs.

COUGAR CLUB RUSH!

GUEST SPEAKER:

THURS., JAN. 20

6:30 p.m., Alumni House

VERN LAW

byu bookstore

Netters preparing for Utah returns to the Saturday night, sugars' foremost of Utah.

pairing generally regardless of what schools meet at the Marriott. It'd be even more riveting if rivals have finest performers

A game is being played, Utah's which is being Lake City, is the s and is being s are concerned, at home on the same one the beating Arizona competition, to the football two schools.

Cougars mixed Wayne Pearce will go with much he go-round with Utah. The only change will be in the women's doubles where Denise Nardi and Lisa Beritzhoff will replace Susie Brown and Karen Kennington.

Brown-Kennington defeated ASU's twosome 6-3 in the opening match of the indoor meet in the Marriott Center.

Kennington will carry the women's color in the singles competition against Utah, and Susie Brown will be the women's entry in the mixed doubles, which is the final match of the weekend. And the Cougars' Kent M. Nissley, the Cougar All-American, would be ready for some action this season. But Nissley will be sidelined indefinitely because of tendinitis. He also missed the ASU match with the same ailment.

On Saturday night's battle in the men's singles will likely pit two All-Americans, BYU's Bruce Kleeger against Utah's Kent Crawford. Crawford, a junior, was the WAC's champion in the number-two singles competition of last spring.

French Henry James of Utah hasn't announced his pairing for the men's doubles. However he can draw from some excellent talent.

Jim Greenberg is the number-three singles winner in the WAC and is the man behind Crawford in the Utes' current lineup. James can also turn to Dave Sherbeck for help.

The last mixed team battle between BYU and Arizona State, according to Coach Valentine, drew an enthusiastic crowd of over 2,000 to the Marriott Center. She and others organizing Saturday night's meet believe a greater number will be on hand to witness the affair with Utah.

As in BYU's mixed tennis matches with Arizona State, the World Team Tennis format will be used.

Yelling and cheering is encouraged and the two sides believe it will have been exciting going to the wire.

Tickets for the event are available at the Marriott Center. Student admission is $1, while general admission is $2.

Former ace recovering

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Baseball Hall of Fame member Vernon "Lefty" Gomez was "doing fine" Saturday after heart surgery Thursday, Stanford Hospital officials said. Gomez, 68, was listed in stable condition.

COPIES 3½" KINKO'S

837 N. 700 E. (upstairs)

Tickle Your Fancy!

FEATHER EARRINGS
Hang it in your EAR

in Gallery 28, University Mall Annex
224-0752

2 groups for 2 dollars! For the first pillow concert of the year, the ASBYU Social Office gives you a super entertaining concert for only $2.00. The groups are "Mission Mountain Wood Band" and "Roto." Don't miss it! Jan. 28, 7:30 p.m. Tickets on sale now, ELWC Ticket Office.

Ex., 104 journey

4 Blood were the victorious basketball tournament held if the tournament was won by 27A in the best of two

04 Blood were Norm Nemrow,

Lesuerre and Steve Lesuerre,

Scott Staker, Steve Downey,

Hawks defeated the Gators for town. Leading the Hawks were

Webb, Loral Diaz and Kent

lead by Ken Young, Jamie and Steve Mack.

The second-place teams in each division were the Gators for the one-day tourney.

Entered in each division, with into two classifications of 32 of teams the faculty-staff and were dropped from the Denney, assistant Intramural

ent ran very well with a minor

"We feel that it was very since we were dealing with 128 period," he said.

egan at 9 a.m. Saturday and on. When it was all over, the championship games had played ach.

players will be involved in the basketball programs which get entries are still being accepted

swimcats

Wites, 88-24

swimming team improved its

the University of Utah

e 13 events in the meet which ds Building pool. Ute swimmer the only first-place points for both the 100- and 200-yard erly, Swim upset BYU olympic ame, by a time of 58.65 to 1 win the 200-yard individual

/ Liz Young, who won three freestyle, the 50-yard freestyle

Dollaghan became the fifth gar team to qualify for the one meter and three meter

FOR A

E

SPECTION

15 minutes of your time, used of the safety of your

EE we will complete brake system

dition of your brakes

ervicing is needed

on any service

ELLING

need servicing it is your

and where to do it.

cialize in brakes and in service is fast, our prices

k guaranteed.

ete brake service, not just

Drum

Brakes

Pick-up

Truck

Brakes

ll services needed

STUDENT DISCOUNT

U. BRAKE

Train derails, 100+ injured

Chicago-to-Florida train at Nashville, Tenn., derailed Saturday morning. About 100 passengers were real panicky. The car wasn't moving and everybody quieted down real fast. A couple of people had flashlights and we began checking to see if anyone was seriously hurt.

"There was one woman seriously injured in the front, and there was a woman with baby who was about 18 months old. The baby was thrown a good ways, and they were about the only serious injuries in our car."

A spokesman for Amtrak in Washington said the Louisville and Nashville Railroad reported that the 20-car Florida train was moving at 43 miles an hour in a 45-mile-an-hour zone at the time of the accident.

Amtrak officials went to the scene in the Fulton community, about 15 miles north of Birmingham, but the cause of the accident was not determined immediately.

Tele-tip line offers help

Students who want to get a job on campus try out their Cosmo, or get a job at BYU, should call Tele-Tip.

Tele-tip, located in the Learning Resource Center in the Harold B. Lee Library, is a system of more than 150 tapes covering topics ranging from how to resolve a dispute with your landlord to how to relax when taking a test. The number is 377-1625 or 266-2000.

Each tape is identified by a number listed in the front of the student directory or in pamphlets available around campus including information desks, the Learning Resource Center and Administration Building. Students then call Tele-tip and ask for the number of the tape they want to hear. Samuel E. Bagraff, chairman of the Department of Learning Resource Centers, said Tele-tip had more than 12,000 calls last year.

Personal concerns, medical help and BYU ticket policies are the most requested tapes, he added.

You'll be impressed!

With Press Publishing's full color writing services no documents. With their variety of styles to choose from. With their reasonable prices. With their love 'em or leave 'em guarantee. You'll be impressed. You'll impress everyone else.

Press
1601 WEST 820 NORTH
PROVO 373-6996

OLD WEATHER IS HERE

Bring In Your Car Now

SERVICE SPECIAL

BATTERY SPECIAL
12 Volt
36 Month
Now Only $24.95

WE-UP
SPECIAL
00
6 Cylinder
Most 8 Cylinder
Plus Parts

EXTRA SPECIAL
ONROE
OCKS
dash and Carry 5.95

CONSOLIDATED TIRE & WHEEL Inc.
PROVO, UTAH

0 South Complete Car Care Center Phone 374-8500

WHAT ARE WE STUDYING WASHINGTON AT VALLEY FORGE?

MAYBE WE'RE STUDYING FROSTBITE

IF MY EARS FALL OFF, I'M GONNA SUE THE SCHOOL BOARD!

Club dates, events, meetings

Club Notes

(Cont. from page 6)

INTERCOLLEGiate KNIGHTS

The Gold Y Chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights will be holding its Winter Semester I.K. Open House Wednesday, Jan. 19, at 7 p.m. at ELWC. All those interested are invited to attend. Guest speakers will include Elliot Cameron, dean of Student Life, and Scott Williams, who works with special events and is the I.K. advisor for the chapter. Refreshments will be served afterwards.

SIGMA DELTA OMICRON

Attention all home ec. ed. majors.... Sigma Delta Omicron is the club for you! The first meeting of the semester will be held tomorrow, 7:30 p.m. at 1205 SFLC. Dr. Johnson of the Food Science Department will speak to us on: "What Home Economists need to know about FOOD STORAGE." Plan to come.... refreshments will be served.

Two men charged with selling U.S. rocket plans to Russia

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two young men from Southern California have been arrested and charged with conspiracy to sell, for allegedly selling U.S. rocket secrets to the Soviet Union, the FBI says.

A bureau spokesman said Sunday there was no estimate yet on what damage the alleged espionage might have caused U.S. defense.

Andrew D. Lee, 25, of Palos Verdes Estates, and Christopher J. Boyce, 23, of Rancho Palos Verdes, were charged Sunday with conspiracy to commit espionage against the United States on behalf of the Soviet Union," the FBI announced.

The case began Jan. 6 when Mexican police arrested Lee on an unrelated matter in Mexico City and found three rolls of top secret U.S. defense documents on microfilm, the FBI said.

That produced a trail that led to Boyce and to Boris A. Crishin, a science attaché at the Soviet embassy in Mexico City, the FBI spokesman Robert Gebhardt told reporters. Gebhardt said he expected Mexico to waive any charges against Lee and to return him to the U.S. to stand trial on the conspiracy charges.

According to the FBI's complaint, filed in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles, Boyce had a top security clearance at the TRW Corp. in Redondo Beach, where he worked for 2½ years until last month.

"Y" SQUARES

Does square dancing interest you? If so, come try out for "Y" Squares. Tryouts are being held Wednesday night from 8-10 p.m. The place is 179 JSB. Also, if you are interested, round dancing starts at 7 p.m.

STAR TREK (ASSOCIATION)

Yellow Alert: There will be a general meeting starting 7:00 p.m. on Jan. 2000 hours on the bridge (278 JKB). There will be a slide presentation and we will listen to a new record. Everyone come and remember the five promotion points for each new member you bring. Also remember your dues.

WILDLIFE SOCIETY

Dr. Thomas Dunsan of the Western Illinois University will speak on "Location Telemetry for Wildlife Studies." This will be tonight at 7:30 pm in 231 MAR.

VAKHOM

We have a basketball game tonight at 8 pm so please meet at 7:30 in the Girls' Locker room. Everyone be there, Wednesday meet at the Pleasant View Chapel for Valynns reception. Remember the fireside Sunday at 9 p.m. Any questions—call Karen.

SKYDIVERS AT BYU

Skydiving is fun in the winter too. Come find out about it in the St. Francis School Gym (rm 170) 900 E & 350 N at 7 pm Wednesday nights. On Wednesday Jan. 26th ONLY we will meet in 109 ELWC at 7 pm.

TAU BETA PI

An important organization meeting for ALL members of Tau Beta Pi will be held Wednesday at 5 pm in 381 CB. Your attendance is vital because important society amendments will be voted upon. Pins and certificates will be distributed and refreshments will be served.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

There will be an open house of the Arnold Air Society on Tuesday (tonight) at 8 pm in 303 JRCB. All those interested in joining the Arnold Air Society should be in attendance.

Forms due

by March 1

The deadline to apply for spring and summer terms and fall and winter semesters is March 1.

Academic scholarships are awarded on the basis of scholastic merit through competitive application. The brochure and applications for academic scholarships are available in A-41 ASB.

Students who wish to apply for special scholarships must meet the same March 1 deadline. Those special scholarships are listed in the Financial Aid Brochure.

There is a club meeting this Thursday at 6:00 in 276 SFH. We are having a great surprise speaker, so come and join in on the fun. We will also discuss the do-it-yourself fireside planned for January 23rd. See you there.

FLYING COUGARS

A ground school film will be shown and questions answered by instructor Dicky. Also, dues will be collected for the new semester. This meeting will be held at 8 pm in 375 ELWC tonight.

YOUTH LEADERSHIP CLUB

Interested in working with youth and having fun? Then come to the Youth Leadership Club Orientation Meeting on Thursday at 10 a.m. in 106 RB to discuss the upcoming activities and service projects. All YL Majors and those interested in working with youth are invited to attend—refreshments will be served.

WATCH REPAIRING
FOR "Y" STUDENTS, FACULTY AND STAFF
FREE ESTIMATES
SPECIAL RATES
Call after 5 p.m. 225-4846
MITCH H. TASUCHI
Certified Master Watchmaker OREM

SPAGHETTI SPECIAL

99¢ adults

66¢ kids under 10

HEAPS
BRICK OVEN PIZZA

150 EAST 800 NORTH PROVO 374-8800

SMITH-CORONA®

Coronamatic™

electric portable typewriter

The Coronamatic 1200 electric portable typewriter has a variety of features including removable cartridges that you can change in just 3 seconds, from color to color, or from nylon to film. It also comes with a handsome yet functional carrying case. Double wall construction to protect your typewriter.

The Coronamatic 2200 electric portable typewriter comes with some of the most advanced designs and features available, in addition to all of the features contained in the 1200.

SC-1200—Sale priced today $200.00

Reg. $245.00

SC-2200—Sale priced today $225.00

Reg. $270.00

byu bookstore

Dance in Concert

'One of Y's best'

By DAVID HAMMOND
University Staff Writer

For any newcomer, BYU's "Dance in Concert" provided a fascinating introduction to modern dance. For those with more experience, the dance concert turned out to be one of BYU's best. The performance, though flawed in places, gave the audience a good opportunity to appreciate dance as a great art form.

The first dance, "For Jan," choreographed by Abby Fiat, was obviously inspired by the dancing of the Beatles. Unfortunately, however, some dancers were too lax in their movements. A studied clumsiness, as seen in the excellent dancing of Abby Fiat, can add wonderful touches to a number, but sloppiness in execution detracts. The audience could relate the hustle and bustle of a changing world to the dancers' frantic racing about to fill the stage with both motion and sound and color.

The numbers "Beginnings" and "Wings" were the most disappointing ones of the evening. "Beginnings" was often quite beautiful with its intricate shapes and movements, but the dancing of Henry Bailey and Kathy Debenham lacked an underlying feeling of intensity that would have given the number far greater impact. "Wings" was pleasant, but it lacked innovation. The wearing of silly hats by the dancers seemed contrived and a bit dull.

The three remaining dances, "A Matter of Time," "The Spirit of Elijah," and "Ex'ados" dominated the evening. At first "A Matter of Time," by Jamie Duncan seemed like another fun little number. But as it went on, it became increasingly intriguing and disturbing. The number began like a Couergette performance gone mad, with the girls knocking each other down in a wonderfully satirical parody of precision dancing. Later the dance mimicked a dull class in which everyone does the same thing. The lack of music except for the constant tick-tock of an alarm clock helped emphasize the idea that the dancers and stage were an image of a world where women (and men) are always on display for others to watch.

"The Spirit of Elijah" expressed the beautiful idea that in the last days the hearts of the children would turn to their fathers. This number, however, had little musical accompaniment. Ann Brundin's choreography was at times a little tedious, as she established through the dancers a representation of herself, her mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. But once all four dancers appeared together, the dance improved remarkably, filling the stage with graceful, swirling motions. As for the final dance, it finally affirmed the unity of all people, past and present.

Joan Woodbury's "Ex'ados" was easily the most visually memorable performance of the evening. The dance was extremely successful. The dancers in "Ex'ados" explored the different ways of moving on or even above the stage. "Mobiles," the first part of the dance, demonstrated how wonderful forms a stationary dancer can make. "Mobiles" ended with even heavy, awkward movements were dance, having a grace and appeal all their own. The final part, "Orbital Holiday," showed modern dance's ability to use many different techniques and styles.

KBYU-TV to broadcast voyage film

"Voyage of the Hokule'a," a National Geographic Television Special, will be broadcast tonight at 8 p.m. on KBYU, Channel 11.

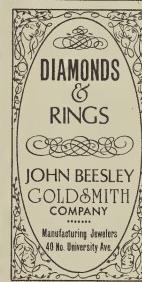

The "Hokule'a," also to be broadcast Sunday at 6 p.m. on Channel 11, follows the voyage of a group of adventurous Hawaiians who created a reproduction of the double-hulled sailing canoes of their ancestors, and sailed it 3,000 miles across the open ocean from Hawaii to Tahiti.

The "Hokule'a," meaning "Star of Gladness," was created as an official Bicentennial project of the State of Hawaii. The Polynesian Voyaging Society, the group that organized to build and sail the canoe, intended to prove scientifically that ancient Polynesian navigation methods could take her to her destination.

National, and hosted by E.G. Marshall, "Voyage of the Hokule'a" is the second in a new season of National Geographic Specials on public television, produced with a grant from Gulf Oil Corp.

Entertainment
The Daily Universe

Heidi McKay, soprano; Reid Nibley, piano; and David Randall, clarinet, will debut as a chamber trio in the Madsen Recital Hall, HFAC, Thursday at 8 p.m.

Sunday

"Mormons closed mi-

Ever heard that? Mad angry? Or perhaps We don't.

We are Sunstone, a Mormon experience, ship, issues and art.

Pick up a copy. It cour your mind about Me

$3.00 at the bookste-

World-famous pianist scheduled for concert

Spanish pianist of world-wide acclaim Joaquin Achucarro will appear at BYU Jan. 27, at 8 p.m. in the HFAC delong Concert Hall.

From the Royal Gardens of Spain to the Imperial Concert Halls of Great Britain, pianist Joaquin Achucarro is famous for command performances and endless scores. Basque-born Achucarro now ranks as one of the most exciting pianists in Europe. The dream-like quality of his work, coupled with his Spanish fire and passion, make each concert a listening experience not often heard in the concert halls of the United States.

Tickets are now available for pianist Joaquin Achucarro at the Music Box Office or by calling 375-7788.

Achucarro will present a free master class, explaining his performance techniques, on Jan. 27 from 10 a.m. to noon in the HFAC Madsen Recital Hall. All students are invited to attend free of charge.

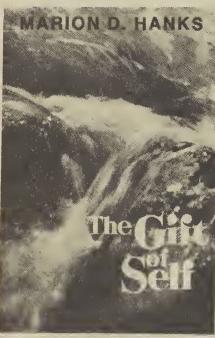

BULLOCK & LOSEE
JewelersMARIION
D.
HANKS

The Gift of Self

by Marion D. Hanks

Reg. $4.95 NOW $3.95

In his parable of the sheep and the goats the Savior depicted the ultimate test of Christian discipleship and of the heavenly reward—love and concern for others. This first book by Marion D. Hanks addresses itself to that vital principle. The 43 chapters are illustrated with great thoughts and quotations drawn from a wide background of both gospel and general reading and with more than 50 stories and personal experiences that illuminate the concepts under discussion.

"We are the largest Missionary Supporting Bookstore in the Church"

70's Seventy's
Mission Bookstore
148 N. 100 W. Provo 373-3083

Orange Blossom
presents

Misty

This ring is as unique as your love . . .

As durable as your eternal devotion . . .

Only Orange Blossom
could make such a ring.

BULLOCK & LOSEE

19 North University
373-1379

Jewelers

University Mall
225-0383